Gateshead Millennium Bridge

CEE 491
Group Members:
Diana Lee
Christopher Major
Eliepa Mataafa
Background

- Links Newcastle City and Gateshead
- Costs $22 million
- Used for pedestrians and cyclists
- Spans 126 meters across River Tyne
Social Benefits

- Bring communities together
- Improve pedestrian facilities
- Open area for regeneration
Economic Benefits

- Attracts tourism
- Benefits local businesses
Innovations

- Tilting mechanism
  - Underpass
  - Conservation of electricity
  - Cycle time
  - Tourist attraction

- Light up walkways
  - Aesthetics
  - Safety
Innovations Cont’d

- Environmentally Friendly
  - Complex design of lighting
  - Litter control

- Placement
  - Asian Hercules II
Technical Issues

- October 2004
  - Circuit board failure
VIDEO

- http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=q54VKTmZfl
Social Problems

- Part of a larger plan to re-urbanize area
- Population fell 5%
- High unemployment rate unchanged
- Can pouring money into cultural landmarks actually regenerate run-down areas?
Local Support

- Residents called it "a stage set"
- Town consists mostly of old industrial warehouses
- "If Gateshead's just nice for tourists, then we will have failed"